

XO Boats at Cannes Yachting Festival 2026
8–13 September 2026 | Cannes, France

This year, XO Boats will proudly participate in the prestigious Cannes Yachting Festival — one of the world's leading in-water boat shows and a key event for the international yachting industry.

Visitors will have the opportunity to discover two exceptional XO models representing the brand's unique combination of Scandinavian design, offshore capability and advanced marine technology.

The highlight of the stand will be the XO EXPLR 44 — fully equipped premium aluminum adventure yacht designed for owners who demand uncompromising performance, safety and comfort in all conditions.

Showcased EXPLR 44 specification includes:

- Triple Mercury 425hp outboard engines
- Advanced Garmin navigation and electronics package
- Seakeeper 4 gyroscopic stabilizer
- Extensive premium comfort and onboard equipment

This exclusive configuration demonstrates XO's vision of modern luxury adventure boating — combining high-speed offshore performance with refined usability and confidence at sea. While this particular EXPLR 44 represents an exceptionally well-equipped specification, it still does not fully showcase the complete level of customization and equipment possibilities available within the XO range.

Also on display will be the XO DFNDR 9 — a dedicated Seakeeper demo and test boat equipped with:

- Twin Mercury 225hp V6 engines
- Seakeeper Ride system
- Seakeeper 1 stabilizer

Guests interested in experiencing the latest stabilization technologies in real conditions are warmly encouraged to book a sea trial during the festival. The combination of XO's deep-V aluminum hull and Seakeeper systems delivers exceptional stability, comfort and control, even in demanding sea conditions.

Originating from Finland, XO Boats has built a strong international reputation for producing high-performance aluminum boats capable of handling challenging offshore environments while maintaining premium design and everyday usability.

The brand is appreciated not only by experienced private owners, but also by professional operators and organizations requiring reliable vessels for demanding special-purpose applications, where durability, seaworthiness and operational confidence are essential. When a boat platform is trusted by professionals responsible for rescue, patrol and protection operations in demanding environments, owners and their families can feel the same confidence and peace of mind while spending time on the water.

Distinctive design, robust construction and an exceptionally smooth driving experience continue to position XO among the most recognizable premium adventure boat brands in Europe. We look forward to welcoming you in Cannes.
